

Bob Dylan is bringing his Rough and Rowdy Ways tour to Edinburgh

Legendary is a word which is overused, but in the case of Bob Dylan it is hardly enough to describe the greatest living songwriter.

Now the 83-year-old Dylan is bringing his latest tour to Edinburgh for two nights at Usher Hall on 5 and 6 November. The shows are produced in a partnership with Yondr which prohibits the use of video cameras or mobile phones, meaning the concerts live on in the audience's memories alone.

This will be the first Edinburgh gig since 2009.
