

First Women's Edinburgh Derby of 2024/25 season to take place at Easter Road

The first Women's Edinburgh Derby of the 2024/25 season will take place at Easter Road.

The much-anticipated clash has been moved from a traditional Sunday afternoon kick-off to 7:35pm on Friday 6th September.

Easter Road will host the first Edinburgh Derby of the new campaign, with the match also to be broadcast live on BBC Alba.

Last November, over 5,000 supporters watched on as Hibs ran out 2-1 winners over Hearts at Easter Road.

Hibs away fixture versus Celtic previously scheduled for Sunday 1st September has been brought forward.

The match will take place at 7:35pm on Friday 30th August at the Albert Bartlett Stadium, and will be broadcast live on BBC Alba.