

Hibs Women head to Alicante for Pre-Season Training Camp

Hibs Women players and staff will fly out to Alicante, Spain on Saturday 20 July for an intensive six-day training camp, before returning home on Friday 26 July.

After three weeks of pre-season training at HTC, Grant Scott will step up our preparations for the upcoming 2024/25 ScottishPower Women's Premier League campaign.

This trip was funded, in part, by monies raised by the highly successful Evening With Cup Winners event in April of this year, which celebrated the successful women's cup-winning teams over the years.

Whilst in Spain, the team will play a pre-season friendly fixture on Thursday 18 July.

Fixture details will be released in due course.

Ahead of the trip, Hibs Women's Head Coach, Grant Scott commented: "Pre-season camps are always good for the team bond, being with each other morning, noon, and night allows for the players and staff to get to know each other ahead of the season getting underway.

"I want to thank everyone for making the Evening With Cup winners event successful. It was a great event celebrating the past successes and provided part of the funding for our upcoming trip to Spain which will be a beneficial week for us ahead of the campaign."
