

Peppa Pig says it's time for change

It's time for change. It's time to vote for more muddy puddles, more songs and more giggles.

Ahead of Peppa Pig and friends visiting Scotland in her brand-new live stage show Peppa Pig's Fun Day Out, Miss Rabbit has been spotted making herself useful in election week in typical Miss Rabbit style.

Just yesterday she was seen in Glasgow and Edinburgh in her Peppa Battle bus, busy making sure children across Scotland join the party that EVERYONE is talking about!

Martin Ronan, Executive Producer for Fierylight said "We're delighted that 'Peppa Pig's Fun Day Out' is coming to Scotland and whilst I'm sure that a lot of focus this week will be on who is going to be your next MP we can guarantee that the only MP you need this month is Mummy Pig who says its time to vote for fun.

"There's only one party in town and that's a Peppa Pig Party. We have a manifesto which promises fun, music and Muddy Puddles so don't delay vote 'Peppa Pig's Fun Day Out"

Based on the much-loved animated TV series, the Oink-tastic live show packed with fun, games and lots of laughs will visit Dunfermline Alhambra (10 & 11 July) Glasgow Kings Theatre (13 & 14 July) His Majesty's Theatre Aberdeen (17 & 18 July) and Edinburgh Playhouse (20 & 21 July).

Join Peppa, along with her family and friends in their latest new adventure as they go to the zoo and also the beach for a special party- it's going to be an exciting and fun packed day, promising interactive fun, songs and games for preschoolers.

It's the perfect family treat. Prepare to sing and dance with colourful scarecrows, feed the penguins, build big sandcastles, and even swim in the sea.

Peppa Pig's Fun Day Out guarantees giggles and snorts for all Peppa fans, and is a perfect introduction to theatre.
