Top 3 Must-Watch Fights

Holloway vs. Topuria

The ex-champion at 145 pounds with a strong, striking game, Max Holloway, is to fight against the young and promising Ilia Topuria. Their confrontation should be interesting, especially knowing how they played before this year. The knockout by Holloway on Justin Gaethje has been one of the most famous, and Topuria's victory over Alexander Volkanovski only spices things up even more. Whether Holloway will break Topuria's combo with his experience is one of the main intrigues of the rest of the year...

Tom Aspinall vs. Jon Jones

Any Jon Jones fight back in the octagon is always a big return, and this time, he is up against Tom Aspinall. The interim heavyweight champion Aspinall has been on a rampage, and this fight could determine the future of the heavyweight division. Dana White has suggested that there are other bouts, but this is the one fans have been waiting for. It will be a day to look forward to as Aspinall is set to face one of the most accomplished fighters of all time.

Khamzat Chimaev vs. Paulo Costa

In the fight between Khamzat Chimaev and Paulo Costa, both fighters need a victory for different reasons. Chimaev has had his ups and downs over the past couple of years, but his skills cannot be questioned. Costa, even though he has had a string of recent defeats, is still a dangerous competitor. It is not known what to expect more – the fight itself or the pre-match performances, given how both fighters love to fool around theatrically before the fight.

The Conor McGregor Saga

There is still much ado about Conor McGregor, who remains a key figure in the MMA world, and there are rumours about his comeback. It's hard to find anyone who doesn't write rumours about his possible return – and he himself is happy to keep the intrigue going to tease the fans. Regardless of who stands across him in the cage, be it Michael Chandler or any other contender, McGregor's comeback is billed to generate a lot of buzz. His charisma, both inside and out of the cage, means any fight that he is in is always going to be a must-see.
