The Salon Awards honour hairdressing professionals and salons at a local level, making it the only national competition where entries are judged regionally. This localised judging approach ensures meaningful comparisons, creating a true “who’s who” of local hairdressing talent and supporting both customers and businesses alike.

This year, the Salon Awards received over 2,800 applications. These entries are meticulously judged by industry professionals who bring a wealth of accolades, skills, and experience to the table. Their challenging task now is to select the winners from this impressive shortlist.

Salon Awards Founder Kate Jeffery shares, “I am delighted by the growth and exceptional quality of entries this year, especially with many newcomers joining our community. The opportunities that the Salon Awards can provide are truly significant. Entries from all regions exude remarkable energy and passion. Each participant has made a bold move towards positive change and growth for themselves or their business—this is truly something to celebrate.”

Each finalist will be invited to the prestigious awards presentations in November, where the winners will be announced and celebrated. Across three dates, with the first two in London on November 2nd & 3rd at the luxurious Leonardo Royal Hotel overlooking St. Paul’s Cathedral, and the third in Manchester on November 9th at the elegant Hilton Hotel in the heart of the city.
