

EIF – The Outrun at Church Hill Theatre

The Royal Lyceum Theatre Company under the adept direction of Vicky Featherstone supplied a powerful interpretation of Amy Liptrot's bestselling memoir, The Outrun, as précised by playwright Stef Smith.

This world premiere involves enhancing music and singing as well as effective compression of action to bring the story of isolation, loneliness, and resilience vividly to the stage.

The dramatization was imaginative and evocative, particularly of Orkney. The cast was first-rate but Isis Hainsworth as the principal woman was exceptional – the emotional involvement and expression of this superb actress was stunning.

Not an easy watch but well worth the effort.
