

New homes fitted out to higher standard than ever

Allanwater Homes has announced that its latest phase of properties come with a fully inclusive, higher specification as standard, which will save homebuyers significant expense.

The mix of three and four bedroom terraced, semi detached, and detached homes at Oaktree in Alloa, priced from £226,995, have integrated white goods, rainfall showers, vanity units in both the main bathrooms and en suites, external power sockets, and a cold water tap.

Additionally, as design dictates, all bedrooms are complete with fitted wardrobes for maximum storage space. UV panels are fitted to the roof of every property in this latest phase at Oaktree Gardens to lower the carbon footprint.

To be able to include this fantastic specification at no extra cost will really help those looking to move – our buyers know exactly what they’re getting in their new home.”

“This development is also conveniently close to various local shops and facilities, and for those who love the outdoors, they will find that Oaktree Gardens is surrounded by enchanting woodland paths and countryside walks. A peaceful and idyllic location, it's ideal for bringing up a family," added Lynn.

"It's little wonder our previous phases here have been so in demand."
