

Scottish Gantry makes a stand in West End

Premium drinks store The Scottish Gantry has opened its third store in the heart of Edinburgh's West End.

The new flagship store, located at 10b Queensferry Street, stocks a fantastic range of premium alcohol and non-alcoholic beverages, showcasing the best of Scotland's larder, whilst also venturing further afield, with an impressive range of fine wines and spirits from all over the world.

The Scottish Gantry opened their first boutique drinks store in Stirling in 2011 and following steady growth opened their second store in Milngavie in 2020.

Best of Scotland on show at The Scottish Gantry in Edinburgh's West End

The impressive West End space enables a unique customer experience and provides a highly personalised customer experience. Key features of the new store in Edinburgh include over 750 product lines, a dedicated tasting area and a whisky vault, affectionately known as the Joe & Lynn Noble suite, that stocks an array of premium whisky products.

The highly qualified and knowledgeable staff team encourage a "liquor to lips" philosophy, enabling customers to sample many of the products, that are steeped in both a rich history and quality, before purchasing.

Kevin Moore, The Scottish Gantry proprietor, said: “We are so excited to open our anchor store on Queensferry Street in the heart of Edinburgh’s West End. It’s wonderful to be part of such a vibrant community and it is an ideal location for local people and visitors alike to sample the fantastic array of premium products we stock.

“Our new store design is a welcoming and accessible space that ensures customer experience is at the heart of everything we do. We have a talented group of staff in this store and our other outlets, who are ready to provide you with exceptional customer service.”
