

Tattoo performers visit Erskine Edinburgh

One of the bands taking part in The Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo visited residents at the Erskine Edinburgh home to play some uplifting music for them.

Members of the 1st Battalion Irish Guards visited during the gruelling run of performances which take place on the Castle Esplanade each night.

Erskine Chief Executive Ian Cumming said: "We are delighted to once again welcome performers from the Royal Edinburgh Tattoo. Our residents look forward to their visit every year. Not all our residents can make it along to the main show in Edinburgh and this visit ensures that no one who wishes to see the Tattoo is left out. As always, the performance was spectacular and left everyone with a smile on their face."

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson

The 2024 Journeys show will run until 24 August with flypasts scheduled for 15 August and 23 August. This year's lead service, the Royal Navy will take audiences on a journey through time, celebrating the tides of change.

The show includes Tattoo favourites, from the Massed Pipes and Drums to the emotive Lone Piper alongside the culture and vibrance of the international cast.

Tickets here.

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.
PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.
PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson

Cathy Combe and Helen Cross listen as members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson

Margaret Hamilton Thomas Fisher and and Thomas Philips listen as members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.
PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.
PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.
PHOTO Alan Simpson

Members of the Irish Guards Pipe Band play for the residents of the Edinburgh Erskine Home.

PHOTO Alan Simpson