

And they all had fun at care home's charity event

Residents at an Edinburgh care home were treated to a Hawaiian-themed charity party, packed with entertainment, delicious food, and also prizes.

Building on the success of last year's party, the Cramond Residence's Lifestyle Team created another fun-filled day for residents and their families to enjoy, with all proceeds going to Age Scotland with this year seeing £551 raised.

The annual party has become a firm favourite with residents and their families with each year offering a unique theme for all to enjoy.

Elaine Vallance, Head of the Lifestyle Team at Cramond Residence, said: "This is an event we've been running for a few years now and it's always an exciting time for staff and residents at the home and every year we are looking to see how we can improve upon the last.

"This year we decided we wanted to host a Hawaiian-themed party, and it was incredibly rewarding to see that this was a hit with the residents.

"The Fete is a great opportunity for residents and their families to come together, enjoy good food and music in a safe and relaxed environment."

Residents enjoyed a day full of Hawaiian BBQ food, live music, various shows, balloon modelling, a raffle, and a tombola.

Elaine said: "We've got an exceptional team here who work very hard to create a range of activities and events for the residents to ensure that we are constantly bringing them activities that bring them joy.

"I'd like to thank everyone who was involved with this year's Fete both in my team and those who attended, it was another incredible day at Cramond Residence and we're already looking forward to seeing how we can make this even better next year."

The Hawaiian BBQ menu included BBQ chicken tenders, beef and veggie burgers with BBQ sauce, Hawaiian chicken with mango and avocado slaw, Lomi Lomi (smoked salmon), Hawaiian pizza, and grilled pineapple slices with a selection of salads and dressings.

The raffle offered exciting prizes including a £250 Virgin experience voucher, a £75 John Lewis voucher, and afternoon tea for two at Harvey Nichols.
