

Detailed guide and tips on earning coins and using them in FIFA 25

The new version of the football simulator has already been released, and players will receive new animations and improved AI in the new FC 25.

You will be able to go to FUT immediately to form new game squads and start earning FIFA 25 coins.

The ability to accumulate coins is a whole art that will help you create your dream team with the help of game sets and the redemption of interesting game cards of football players.

In this guide, we will consider various methods of accumulating and increasing your wealth and potential earnings, so that you progress in divisions and win tournaments from EA Games more often.

You can always buy FC 25 coins to simplify your game start and immediately get several gold game cards with good potential for speed and accuracy, which will significantly help you get used to it.

Photo by JESH00TS.COM on Unsplash

Understanding the Basics

Before we get into complex strategies, it is important to understand the basic principles of accumulating your FC 25 coins.

Play division matches and events, and you will be able to earn coins depending on your results. Successes and failures will affect your position in the league, your overall earnings and the opportunity to calibrate for the Weekend League, the most profitable tournament from EA Sports.

Complete daily and weekly challenges to regularly receive your FIFA 25 coins. Usually these are in-match tasks such as winning the ball, scoring goals, playing without penalty cards and so on. It is important to manage to fully complete the task on time, because as time runs out, the task will be replaced and if you do not complete it, there will be no reward.

Participation in the entire football season also brings its own income and result, which depends on your success in general. If you are active, the game account will be pleasantly increased cheap FC 25 coins.

Transfer Market Trading

The transfer window is the basis of the entire online league in FIFA 25, because here gamers buy missing players and sell unnecessary cards, and if you master the dynamics of prices and the true value of each player, you can earn coins at any free time.

Watch events like SBC, which require the release of certain players on the field, and if you guess and stock up on the necessary cards in advance, which usually cost little, you can earn good money, but do not forget to close this week for yourself first and get FC 25 coins.

Try to sell cards at the peak of online, when there are more players, but watch the price, which changes quickly due to the activity of a large number of gamers who can sell such cards.

Buy weak players in advance who can shine in real football and due to this get more significant parameters in their virtual card. Such actions are guaranteed to bring results, but for this you need to monitor both game and real football.

Often, the player's rating changes during the Champion League and other tournaments, so keep an eye on them if you want to get cheap FIFA 25 coins.

Using Squad Building Challenges (SBC)

SBC is a challenge for active players that allows you to use cards that you probably have lying around idle.

These challenges will require you to select certain players for your squad at the request of the board of directors. Often this is a certain league or nationality. You need to assemble a team and play a match against another player or AI. For completing the task, you can get FIFA 25 coins, packs with players and even unique players for your team.

Buy players of rare leagues and nationalities and then resell them at the time of a new task from the Squad Building Challenge. Usually, such cards are bought quickly, because many players want to close this event and many are even ready to buy cheap FC 25 coins to complete the task.

Playing in the Weekend League

The Weekend League is a tournament that consists of three stages and allows you to get significant rewards for your results. It is available to all active players, regardless of their rank and division.

First, you need to get to the qualification stage. To do this, you need to play division matches and score 1500 points before Friday will come. To do this, you need to win, but you can also play a draw and even lose, the main thing is that you play a lot of matches, this can also be considered your pass to the next stage.

At the FUT Champions stage, you need to try hard, since you will have 10 matches in which you need to win at least 4 games to get to the next stage.

The plus is that each victory will bring you additional gold sets of football players, and even a complete defeat will be rewarded with a consolation prize.

The downside is that your opponent can be a representative of any league or division, which creates a spread in skills and teams, but the matches are played until victory or defeat, so you will always have a chance to hold out until the penalty shootout and win against an even stronger opponent.

Weekend League is the final stage of the tournament, in which you will play 20 matches and for each victory you will receive additional rewards. These are FC 25 coins, goal celebration emotions and additional football player cards.

Participate in tournaments every week, and you will be able to gradually strengthen your squad and earn cheap FIFA 25 coins with your efforts.

Maximize Your Income

If you want to fully strengthen your FC, rather than just enjoying a couple of matches a day without any visible progress, then you need to squeeze the most out of each game session.

Always prioritize scoring for the Weekend League to start, as this is your constant source of gold cards.

Next, complete the daily task to earn your FC 25 coins, then you can complete the SBC and continue to explore the transfer market and play division matches to gain experience.

Seasonal Events and Promotions

Always check out EA Sports promotions, which may include specific players or all categories of game packs.

Conclusion

Earning FC 25 coins requires patience, skill and a little luck. Study the game market, complete tasks and take part in tournaments and league matches.

This way you will accumulate FIFA 25 coins and spend them on strengthening your club with the help of random game packs, where everything will depend on your luck, or through the transfer window system, but be prepared to pay a fair price for the best footballers.

Remember that you can always buy FC 25 coins for sale to help you get started in FIFA Ultimate Team.