

Edinburgh Trams will run through the night for Terminal V fans

Edinburgh Trams will go the extra mile for music fans next weekend, with more trams ready to run throughout the night for the creeptacular event at the Royal Highland Centre.

Trams will run as normal from every 20 minutes until 3am on Friday, 25 October and Saturday 26 October to help people attending Terminal V Halloween make the most of this year's electronic music festival.

For the rest of the night, there will be trams from every 10 minutes until daytime service resumes the next morning. Customers can access the venue from the Ingliston Park & Ride stop.

Sarah Singh, Edinburgh Trams' Head of Service Delivery, said: "Following the success of additional trams during previous Terminal V events, we wanted to reassure customers they can rely on us to get home or to their accommodation with as little fuss as possible.

"Trams will serve all stops between the airport and Newhaven, and our normal range of tickets will be accepted at no extra cost."
