The café on Portobello High Street which won a Good Food award in 2022 has been put up for sale.

Co-owner Nick Passey said that he and partner Gary have now decided to go their separate ways and begin different projects. The pair have loved being in Portobello since opening on the High Street in 2020, but feel that it is “the right time” to sell and move on.

Nick said: “We just hope that whoever buys our little café will love it as much as we have.”

There are seats for around 30 people in the café which is run by four members of staff at present.

The business is being marketed by Cornerstone here.
