

The Alpine Coaster – from the air

The newest attraction at Hillend is promised to be the “ride of your life” by Midlothian Council.

Now you can see the full scope of the white knuckle coaster which is 980 metres from top to bottom with a vertical drop of 170 metres. Riders can slow their carts down if they get too scared – and if you really only want to have a virtual experience then see the video below.

The ride is open on Saturdays and Sundays and will be open during the school holiday week from 14 October to 21 October inclusive.

Book here using the Midlothian Leisure app.

ALL PHOTOS Craig Duncan

