

Hidden Door Launch Party – Last day on Saturday

On Saturday at Hidden Door it is free to visit to have a look around the huge Paper Factory site in the afternoon and then in the evening you will need a ticket.

On Saturday entertainment will be provided by Black feminist punk band Big Joanie co-headlining with alt rock trio HotWax, with support from doom-punk quartet Witch Fever and dream-pop duo Sarah/Shawn.

Alongside the live music, audiences can explore some of the huge factory spaces featuring the work of over 20 artists. A diverse range of media and artforms will be presented, including sculpture, performance, installation, painting, printmaking and large-scale works.

All details of what's on and when, including details of how to get tickets are here on the Hidden Door website.

There was a party on Friday with Paige Kennedy, laser lights and dancers, food and beer. What's not to like?

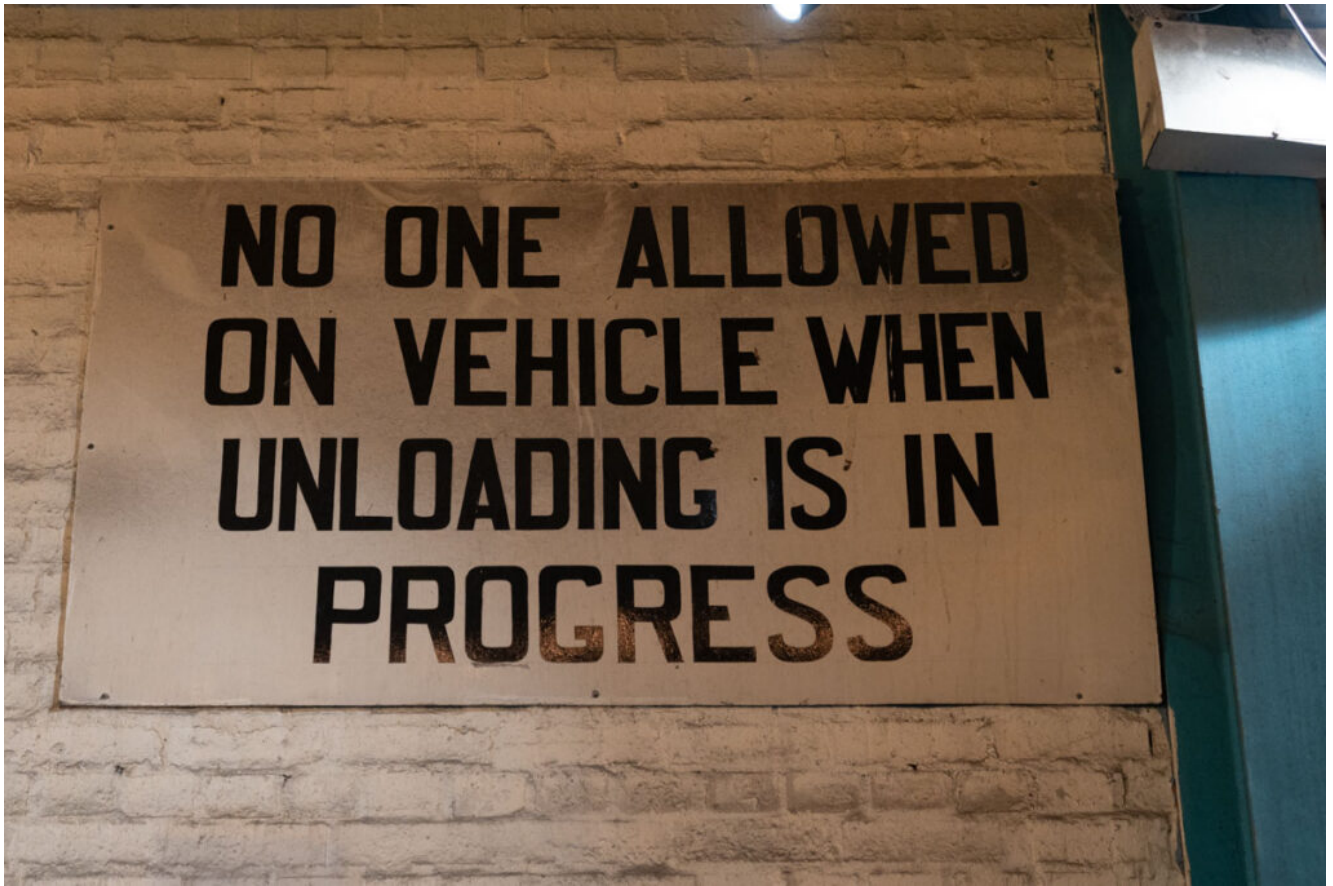

Hidden Door have taken over The Paper Factory which is a huge 15 acre site at Maybury and this weekend is just a taster for a full blown festival in May. In the meantime the site will be used as a creative space by artists.

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

© 2024 Martin McAdam

