

Hidden Door – tickets available for next weekend's party

Hidden Door has taken over its largest site ever at The Paper Factory at Maybury and is throwing a huge opening party next weekend.

Tickets are available here after the first release sold out.

There is music, artworks by around 20 artists, installations and performances to see on Friday and Saturday nights and there is a free entry afternoon on Saturday when you can have a look at what it's all about.

After the weekend (see below for timings) there will be a bigger multi arts festival on the site in the spring next year. This is a 15 acre site so there is a lot of scope to use the buildings and the open space creatively.

Friday 22 November

- 18:00 – Doors open
- 18:00 – Exterior
- 18:30 – Laser and dance show
- 19:15 – Paige Kennedy
- 19:45 – Laser and dance show
- 20:30 – Trout
- 21:15 – Laser and dance show
- 21:25 – Light show w/ Sativa Drummers
- 22:00 – Jane Weaver

00:00 – Doors close

Saturday 23 November

13:00 – Doors open (free until 18:00)

18:00 – Sarah/Shaun

18:30 – Laser and dance show

19:15 – Witch Fever

19:45 – Laser and dance show

20:30 – HotWax

21:15 – Laser and dance show

21:25 – Light show w/ Sativa Drummers

22:00 – Big Joanie

00:00 – Doors close

How to get there

Hidden Door is a volunteer-run charitable body and they could do with your help to keep going in this their 10th year. The organisation has opened up some of the most interesting locations in the city such as Leith Theatre, the Arches on Market Street (where the area is now developed into shops and retail spaces) and Granton Gasometer. These have all been “meanwhile” developments using spaces and buildings while the planning process winds its weary way through the permissions required to turn old buildings into something new for the 21st century.

The Gasometer is now being developed as the central part to a new public park in an area which will become home to thousands of families as thousands of new homes are built there.

Fireworks at the gas tower in Granton, Edinburgh, Scotland.
PHOTO Fabio Scalici Photography

Granton Gasometer. © 2024 Martin McAdam

Hidden Door

AT
THE PAPER FACTORY
1 TURNHOUSE ROAD, EDINBURGH, EH12 8NP

VENUE LAUNCH PARTY
22ND & 23RD NOVEMBER 2024

TWO NIGHTS OF LIVE MUSIC, VISUAL ART AND PERFORMANCES IN A HUGE INDUSTRIAL SITE TRANSFORMED FOR THE ARTS

FRIDAY 22ND NOVEMBER

FANE WEAVER

trout

PAIGE
KENNEDY

EXTERIOR

SATURDAY 23RD NOVEMBER

big joanie

HOT WAX

WITCH FEVER

SARAH/SHAUN

PLUS: ART SALE, FOOD
STALLS, BARS AND MORE

EXPLORE AN IMMERSIVE
ENVIRONMENT WITH VISUAL ART, DANCE, AND PERFORMANCE BY OVER
20 ARTISTS

TICKETS: HIDDENDOORARTS.ORG

Hidden Door is a registered Scottish Charity, SC050108