

Emergency services remain at scene of fire in Livingston

Emergency services remain in attendance at a fire at Brucefield Industrial Park, Hutton Square, Bellsquarry, Livingston, which was reported around 1.35pm on Saturday, 7 December, 2024.

The fire has been contained by the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service, who are continuing to monitor the premises.

There is no risk to the wider public.

Roads in the surrounding area have since been re-opened.

Enquiries into the incident are ongoing.