

Sprogmanay 2025 – great fun for all

Sprogmanay is really for children – but appeals to all ages from the scenes in the National Museum of Scotland today.

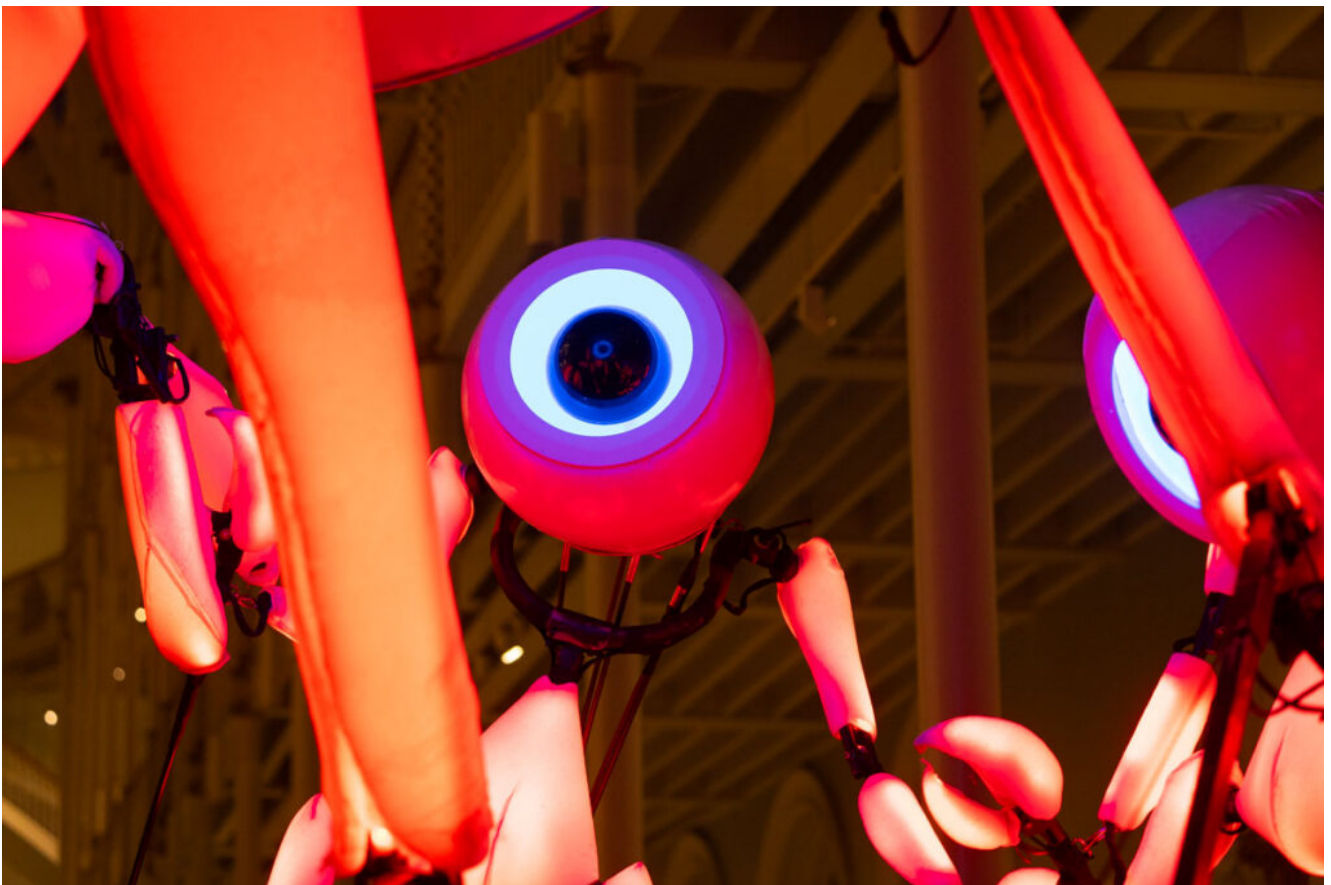

Presented in partnership with Edinburgh's Hogmanay children got the opportunity to dance their way into 2025 with a bumper afternoon of music, arts, and crafts for all ages.

Featuring the return of the incredible Unicorn Dance Party, and a special street theatre performance from international artists Close Act who brought their I-Puppets out to play.

This was just one part of the New Year's Day activities on offer – and there is more tonight with Vitamin C Club Night and Haley Zalassi spinning the discs at a New Year's Day Club Night. More information here.

Sprogmanay at National Museum of Scotland © 2024 Martin McAdam

Sprogmanay at National Museum of Scotland © 2024 Martin McAdam

Unicorn Dance Party © 2024 Martin McAdam

Sprogmanay at the National Museum of Scotland with street theatre from Close Act © 2024 Martin McAdam

Street theatre by Close Act which wowed the children at Sprogmanay © 2024 Martin McAdam

Street theatre by Close Act which wowed the children at Sprogmanay © 2024 Martin McAdam