

Borders Book Festival to run from 12-15 June at Harmony Garden, Melrose

The much-loved Borders Book Festival will return this summer with a mélange of all-things cultural, comedic, current affairs and cuisine – and much more besides – from its incomparably beautiful home of Harmony Garden, Melrose, in the Scottish Borders.

This year running from Thursday 12th to Sunday 15th June, the annual four-day treat will offer more than 100 events, ranging from political debate to popular culture, delicious food and drink to delectable fiction, and from entertaining stories to relaxation retreats and serene spaces. As ever, the Book Festival offers something for everybody, no matter their age and interests.

The full Book Festival programme is set to be revealed on Wednesday 23rd April, after which tickets will go on sale at www.bordersbookfestival.org.

Box Office opens at 12 noon on Wednesday 23rd April with tickets available at www.bordersbookfestival.org or by calling 0131 290 2112.
