

Fort Kinnaird shops helping out for Mother's Day

Shops at Fort Kinnaird are offering visitors the chance of picking up a free houseplant on Saturday, just ahead of Mother's Day.

There will be 500 houseplants available to brighten up a space in the home.

These will be on display near Boots between 11am and 3pm when visitors will be given a houseplant on a first come first served basis in return for signing up to Fort Kinnaird's email newsletter.

Plants bring with them a range of health benefits, and help to boost mood, improve sleep, and purify the air.

Liam Smith, centre director at Fort Kinnaird, said: "We know how important Mother's Day is for so many of our visitors, so we wanted to do something simple but meaningful to mark the occasion. We hope this giveaway brings smiles to our shoppers and helps make the day even more special."

Fort Kinnaird has a range of retailers where shoppers can search for the perfect Mother's Day gift, including jewellery from Goldsmiths, sweet treats from Hotel Chocolat or candles from Homesense. There are also several restaurants at the shopping centre where family can spend time catching up, including Chaiwala and Bread Meats Bread.
