Rosie Livingstone has signed a new two-year deal with Hibs Women.

The 19-year-old made her senior debut in an Edinburgh Derby clash in May 2021 aged just 15 with the team earning a 2-0 away victory over Hearts at Oriam.

Since that initial bow, the Hibs Girls Academy graduate has made 55 appearances for the Club and has found the back of the net on 14 occasions.

Returning from a long-term injury in October, she has impressed this season – appearing 13 times and scoring five goals to date.

On her immediate return after six months on the sidelines Livingstone netted versus Montrose, before the forward sealed a momentous away Edinburgh Derby victory with a composed late winner at Tynecastle in November.

Prior to marking her 50th Hibs appearance with a sublime strike to seal a crucial league win over Rangers in late December, the youngster had also netted on her first start in over 12 months during a 4-0 triumph over Motherwell that same month.

With her previous contract set to expire this summer, the highly-rated attacker has put pen-to-paper on a contract renewal to extend her stay in Leith until Summer 2027.

On her new deal, she said: “I’m pleased to sign for two years, I feel like I’ve got unfinished business at the Club. As soon as I found out Grant was keen to keep me, it was something I did not second guess.

“Me and my family are so proud for me to be here.”

Head coach Grant Scott was pleased to retain the player and said: “We’re delighted that Rosie has committed her future to Hibernian for another two years.

“She’s a talented young player with great vision, creativity, and a strong work ethic, and she continues to be an important player for us.

“Rosie has made great strides in her development, and we’re excited to see her keep progressing and playing a key role in the team’s future.”
