

Silverware opportunity for Hibernian Women

Hibernian Women have the chance to pick up silverware this month when they face Rangers in the final of the Sky Sports Cup.

The final will take place on Saturday, March 22, kicking off at 3pm at Fir Park Stadium in Motherwell and will be shown live on Sky Sports and NOW.

Hibs secured their place in the final with a 3-0 victory over Aberdeen at Meadowbank on January 19.

Ciara Grant fired Hibs ahead before Eilidh Adams added a second with 15-minutes remaining. Grant wrapped things up just before the end.

Speaking to Hibs TV after the semi-final victory Hibs head coach Grant Scott said: "I'm really proud of the group. It was a tough match as we expected. There are a lot of improvements in the Aberdeen side.

"I'm delighted for the players, the staff, everyone involved, and the Football Club. We have a nice occasion to look forward to.

"I have a lot of respect for Rangers and their manager, they have done good things over the last couple years.

"They are [in the Final] again and are defending their trophy well. It's one for us to look forward to."

Rangers beat Celtic to reach the final. Rio Hardy broke the deadlock for Rangers after a corner early in the second half. Katie Wilkinson struck home a free-kick to make it 2-0 before Emma Lawton pulled one back in added time.

Hibernian are currently working on transport options for supporters, pre-match hospitality and sponsorship packages, further information will be shared ahead of the game.

Tickets for the match are on sale now through the Motherwell e-ticketing website.

Prices: Adults – £10 – Concessions (U16s) – £4 – Disabled Supporters – £4 – Family Ticket – £25 (two adults and two children)

There will be no formal segregation at the match although Hibs have been assigned the North Section and Section M. Rangers have been assigned Sections C and F.

SWPL Managing Director Fion McIntyre said: “I’d like to congratulate both teams for reaching the Sky Sports Cup Final. I’m sure this match will be a great spectacle and showcase the very best in women’s football.

“It’s really important that the Sky Sports Cup remains affordable and accessible and our concessions and family tickets continue to provide fantastic value for fans who we are sure will turn out in big numbers.

“There will be lots of family friendly activities happening in and around the stadium and the SWPL encourages all fans to come early to get involved in the activities and enjoy the pre match atmosphere.”
